

Dear Friends of Alitex

During 2020, we have endeavoured to maintain the core activities of design, manufacture & installation of our glasshouses, ensuring that our staff are safe as well as all customers whose site we visit. We have been fortunate thus far to have been unaffected by any cases. Given the increase in cases and another national lockdown, we feel it is important to respect each individuals level of anxiety and are currently assessing work force capacity.

Consequently, our available team is reduced and unfortunately, our schedules will inevitably be impacted.

It is in our nature to work hard so we can navigate the coming weeks. We are working with our sales and installation teams to create confidence – ensuring no other trades are on site, introducing more testing, hiring porta-loos where sensible and generally providing as much information upfront as possible.

To that end I ask, not just for your understanding, but your co-operation.

- Please keep us informed of any COVID issues on site.
- Please discuss with us if you have any concerns about us coming to site.
- We will be conducting sales visits via zoom unless the project has specific design technicalities that require a site visit.

It has been said too often that these are testing times. Your commitment to Alitex is very much appreciated and it is right to expect us to do all we can to fulfil our commitment to you at the earliest opportunity. Rest assured that we are working to do just that.

Many thanks.
